

"We Pay your Fees"

Ngāi Tahu Tourism Lincoln University Scholarship will pay your university fees for three years while you study for a degree in Tourism at Lincoln University

Anna Istead, 19, Kāti Huirapa

"Many things excite me about tourism; I like the fact that there are indoor and outdoor jobs and that you get to share our unique culture and heritage with people from all over the world. I want to complete my degree with the highest possible grades so I will have lots of job opportunities and eventually I would like to manage a tourism business."

Amy Beran, 22, Ngāi Tūāhuriri

"Tourism is fast paced and constantly challenging, which definitely appeals to me and I think that marketing would be an interesting area to work in. Promoting and selling tourism would certainly have a lot of variety. I also want to become more bi-cultural and have a balance between the Māori and European world that I am a part of."

Shaunee Morgan, 18, Ngāi Tarewa, Ngāti Irakehu

"I like the idea of working in tourism because it combines discovering new things and places, travelling and adventures and helping people. I plan to complete my degree in Tourism Management and hopefully get a job working for my own iwi."

"More than a Scholarship"

- fees paid for three years
- a real taste of the industry
- paid holiday work at one of our tourism businesses
- mentoring from our experienced business managers
- learn about your culture in a supportive environment
- build industry networks

NOW GO to the Ngāi Tahu website:
www.ngaitahu.iwi.nz/scholarships and download the 2011 application form or phone 03 371-2684

